COOSA VALLEY-DISTRICT.

NEWS FROM THE SURROUNDING COUNTIES.

CHEROKEE COUNTY.
George, son of Mr. John Wilson, and a two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Morgan died of measles at Thomas Mill recently.

A man named Rucker, induced Miss Sallie Ogles of Tilton, Ga., a very popular young lady of the village, to elope with him. He carried her to various places, always making some excuse for not fulfilling his promise of marriage. He at last deserted her near Centre, where her father found her and took her home. She is a sad, but a much wiser young woman now.

A revival in the Baptist church at Centre resulted in many accessions to that church, and some of the converts joined the Methodist church also.

Gen. Forney addressed a large and appreciative audience on the political issues of the day at Centre recently.

The doctors of Cherokee will meet in Centre Oct. 2nd to organize a Medical Society.

Hurricane Creek cotton factory in Cherokee county will begin running again shortly.

Pink Webster stabbed John Morrison twenty-one times near Key recently, and strange to say inflicted no mortal wound.

ST. CLAIR COUNTY.
Government work opened on the Coosa the 13th under the supervision of Engineer Andrews. Maj. Singleton is daily expected from California.

Mr. Dennis Tranel, aged 68, died in Ashville the 19th.

Board in Ashville costs only $8 per month and tuition averages $2.50 per month.

A tornado recently moved down the left bank of Coosa creek and swept down a great many trees. Its track was narrow.

The Baltimore, Birmingham and Gulf R.R. have opened boxes of subscription in Ashville.

The health officer of St. Clair reports the county for the past two months remarkably exempt from fever, but more of flux than usual. In June there were 40 births and 13 deaths. In July 25 births and 11 deaths.

The silver ore of Eden is said to be fine and attracting the attention of New York and St. Louis capitalists.

TALLADEGA COUNTY.
The reported sale of the Aniston and Atlantic road, which created great rejoicing in Aniston and Talladega, turns out to be a hoax.

On last Wednesday three negro men, Henry Barclay, Robt. McAlister and Chambers Baker, were engaged in digging a well on Chambers Baker's place in the western part of the city. Henry Barclay and Chambers Baker were drawing at the windlass while Robt. McAlister was going down into the well in a bucket, and when about 20 feet from the bottom the windlass split and the handles flew loose from the hands of the two men who were using them, striking both of them on the head, killing Henry Barclay instantly and seriously injuring Chambers Baker. Of course Robt. McAlister, who was 20 feet from the bottom of the well in a bucket had a quick journey down and the sudden jar received by striking the bottom considerably disabled him, but at this time he is improving. Chambers Baker is in a very dangerous condition from the two wounds received on the head.—Hume.

A negro orator in Talladega has been trying to induce the negroes of that county to emigrate to Texas. Of course there is money in it to the negro orator.

Mr. Ross Smith, a popular young man of Talladega, has moved to Birmingham.

The Advance has a new press and has had some difficulty in getting it to print well.

John R. Sampey, of Louisville, and Miss Annie E. Renfro, of Talladega, were married recently.

The Dent and Dumb Institute at Talladega opened with a larger attendance than ever before.

Dr. Taylor is also a candidate for State Senator.

A primary election has been ordered for Oct. 9th in Talladega to select delegates to the Senatorial Convention.

The young man who killed Jack Day is still at large. The Gadsden Iron Company offers $100 for his arrest.

Up-town and down-town Gadsden are contending for the post office and each end has offered a post-office building free of rent. Postmaster Liddell has decided in favor of down-town.

Mr. Hugh Carlisle purchased thirty cars of steel rails in New Orleans and will at once begin track laying to the foot of the mountain.

A real estate company with $50,000 has just been organized in Gadsden, with editor W. M. Meeks as president.

A Block will open a general merchandise business in Gadsden soon.

Berger is the biggest advertiser in Gadsden and as a consequence is doing a large business.

Mr. Litter Littlefield and Miss Lou Burton were married the 16th.

Mrs. Mary Patterson of Gadsden, died in East Tennessee recently.

Annie, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Jones and Ethel, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Stevenson, of Gadsden, died recently.

Mr. D. P. McBroom, formerly of Gadsden, but now of the firm of McBroom Bros., Porterville, Ala., and Miss Jessie McWhorter, of Gaylesville, were married on the 15th inst.

GLEBURNE COUNTY.
Some of the candidates for clerk in the late election are still fighting over the matter through the newspapers. This is very unprofitable business.

Mr. O. L. Rush, of Chulofinnee, has moved to Kissemmar, Fla.

Georgians who have been trying Texas recently passed through Edwardsville to their old home, disgusted with the Lone Star state.

Mr. J. J. Alexander and Miss Susie E. Alexander, of Borden Springs, were married recently.

Prof. C. H. Clark, of Douglassville, Ga., will open a school at Heflin.

A two-year old daughter of Mr. B. S. West died at Edwardsville recently.

A BOY'S NERVE.
Rather than lose his life James Eldridge tries to cut his foot off.

Mr. Jonathan Eldridge, who lives near Oxmoor, brought to the city late yesterday afternoon his son James, aged fourteen years, to have a physician treat his right foot, which had been nearly severed from the ankle with a pocket knife in his own hands, the cause of which was a remarkable display of bravery and nerve on the part of the boy, who caught his foot between a rail and cross-tie, which could not be extricated, as he thought, before the train passed, and he deliberately took out his pocket knife and at tempted to cut off his foot at the ankle. The boy was crossing the track when his foot became entangled in the place mentioned. He heard the train at Oxmoor, a mile off. He tried to get his shoe off, but could not, and before being reached he cut through the leather into his foot, making an incision nearly to the bone, when he fainted from the loss of blood after having nearly severed the skin from the bone.

A HORRIBLE SIGHT.
The engineer saw the boy soon after he fainted and stopped the engine before he was run over. The little fellow lay in a pool of blood which had run from the severed veins of his ankle. His foot was extricated and he was revived and taken to his parents. The boy said he had no idea of dying, and rather than run the risk of being run over he tried to cut his foot off. It is thought his foot can be saved.—Birmingham Chronicle.

Interesting Experiences.
Hiram Cameron, Furniture Dealer of Columbus, Ga., tells his experience thus: "For three years have tried every remedy on the market for stomach and Kidney Disorders, but got no relief, until I used Electric Bitters. Took five bottles and am now cured, and think Electric Bitters the Best Blood Purifier in the world."—Major A. B. Reed, of West Liberty, Ky., used Electric Bitters for an old standing Kidney affection and says: "Nothing has ever done me so much good as Electric Bitters."

Sold at fifty cents a bottle by W. M. Nisbet.

There are quite a number of candidates to succeed Senator Bowdon from the Eighth District. Dr. Wm. Taylor, who has served in the legislature, Cecil Browne, who has served in the legislature, Dr. Groce, who has served in both branches of the legislature, and A. Cunningham, who has been in the legislature.

The Gadsden Lumber Company got an order for $10,000 worth of lumber last week.

Mr. James Haines, near Gadsden, died the 22nd inst.

Mr. A. P. McKown, of Fairburn, has in his possession a perfectly petrified rose bud, which was sent him from Valley Head, Ala., where the soil and climate seem to be adapted to petrification, as any quantity of acorns, hickory nuts, etc., are said to be found which are petrified.

The Columbus, Ga., Enquirer recently published the particulars of a terrible tragedy in Henry county, where, it was stated, a Miss Wingate had been shot by a Mr. Hightower, because she refused to marry him. The Enquirer Times says the report was without a shadow of foundation.

Snake stories are going the rounds of the Alabama press, but we think the following, of the bon constritor order, from the Clanton Call takes the cake: A correspondent from Lomax says, "a snake was killed here a few days ago, which had just finished his noon-day meal by catching and swallowing two young pigs, three p. rtridges and a full grown rabbit." Next.

Carp ponds are getting to be numerous in Chambers county. Messrs. S. H. Carlisle and R. B. Smith, residing two miles from LaFayette, have carp ponds well stocked, and will begin using the fish next spring. These ponds are scattered along from LaFayette to Mulatown, and several are in the vicinity of Fredonia and Hickory Flat, also in the direction of Dudleyville. Chambers county will soon be ready to report whether there is any virtue in carp culture or not.

The Eufaula Times says: A Mr. Smith, living near Auberville, carried his family to Texas last winter, after listening to some rose tale of the neighbors who had returned before him. Yesterday he and his family got back to Eufaula, en route to their old home in Henry county. He begs to be excused from any more Texas. He says in some counties there has been no rain in six months and he had to haul water to drink and use fifteen miles. Henry is good enough for anybody, says the Times.

The LaFayette Democrat says: Mrs. C. A. Hodnett died at her home a few miles east of LaFayette last Sunday morning about nine o'clock. She got up as usual and prepared breakfast, and a short while afterwards complained of not feeling well, and lay down and began reading a paper. Noticing that she was very quiet, her husband went to the bed and found her gasping. The neighbors were immediately notified, and Dr. D. V. of this place summoned, but she expired before the doctor arrived. Apoplexy is thought to have been the cause of her death.

The Troy Messenger says: Uncle Billy Green, who lives about six miles west of Perote, is still very sanguine about the "mine" that he has discovered on his place. He thinks that there is gold and silver in abundance, and wants some good miner to visit him and inspect his "rocks" and "sand." He will "board" anybody as long as they wish to stay, that will go out and examine it. His address is Wm E. Green, Troy, Ala., and says that he would be glad to hear from any miner on the subject.

There is something, and perhaps of value, in his dirt, and he is trying to have an assessor to determine what it is.

Mr. John Brown, son of Mr. W. L. Brown, residing near Liberty, Ala., was taken with a fit and fell into Graves' Creek and was drowned. He was not missed until Monday morning when he was discovered lying dead in the creek where he had fallen. He was about 21 years old, and had been subject to fits for a long time.

TARIFF AND PARTY.
Politics is a question of policy and the tariff is a question of policy. Some men said that the tariff was and is a local question. However that may be it is certain that the protective tariff men in Alabama occupy a very difficult position. The Chronicle has a firm abiding belief in a protective tariff. First, because they think it is an American idea. American possibilities judiciously developed would enable us to live inside the United States as China lived for seven a thousand years within herself. That is independence, nothing else is.

The people of Alabama though, do not think with the Chronicle on this subject. The people of Alabama by a large majority are free traders, of low tariff voters. Birmingham is a protective city, and possibly Jefferson county is a protective county. We live in a low tariff congressional district and in a low tariff state.

These facts are plainly true. And there are other facts equally true. One of these is that the democratic party will for years yet control the state, for the democratic party is the white people of the state, with exceptions. The protection idea is not a democratic idea. It got into that party in 1835 when the whigs began to vote with the democrats.

This much we say as premises for the argument that we protection democrats must stay inside the pale of the democratic party. We cannot accomplish anything outside of the party. The theory of the Chronicle is that we stay inside and try to educate the traditionalists up to the ideas of to-day. We have already accomplished much in this direction and we can do much more before the time to redistrict the state. Outside the party we only could meet defeat, and outside we could not grow. Let us stay inside till the whole mass is leavened, it will not be long.—Birmingham Chronicle.

Our contemporary is mistaken in his premise, but correct in his conclusions. The tariff is simply a question of right or wrong. It is a question whether taxes shall be levied for the purpose of maintaining the government alone, for the benefit of all its citizens, or whether they shall be levied for the purpose of protecting from competition the various favored classes or localities at the expense of the interests of the great mass of our population.

The Chronicle says the people of Alabama are opposed to it on his subject. Does it never occur to our high tariff friends in the Birmingham district to ask themselves, Why is it that seven and three quarters of the districts in Alabama are opposed to a tariff or protection? Do they imagine that this overwhelming majority in Alabama in opposition to the Birmingham idea is due to stubbornness and a misconception of the question? One of the most overwhelming arguments against the protection idea in Alabama rests in this very fact that ninety-nine in a hundred oppose it because they realize it is no protection to them. They oppose it because the laws of self-preservation demand it, but aside from these mere selfish considerations we believe they oppose it from that innate sense of justice that leads relating men to judge this question upon its naked merits, and so in time will our Birmingham friends judge it. Birmingham should no more be a protective city than Selma; her interests we believe demand the greatest freedom from competition with the world at large that can possibly be given, for her natural advantages make her supreme over all competitors.

The Chronicle, however, with its usual good sense is correct in its conclusions that it is well to remain in good company. The protective democrats in the sixth district will remain in the party, until the enormous mass of Alabama shall become leavened, as the Chronicle expresses it, with the small lump of protection yeast that exists in Birmingham, but they will remain in the party for years to come, until one universal shout shall go up from the democratic hosts of Alabama for a tariff that is just and right in itself.—Selma Times.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery.
Capt. Coleman, of Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but alleviated the extreme soreness in his throat. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner.

OCTOBER 2 1886.
FOR REPRESENTATIVE
SEVENTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT OF ALABAMA,
IN THE FIFTH CONGRESS.
WILLIAM H. FORNEY, of Calhoun County.

The Montgomery Advertiser trade issue of 28 columns was a credit to Southern journalism. Nothing like it has ever been issued in Alabama before.

A paper of a neighboring town asks how it is that town can pay more for cotton than any other town in the county. It don't do it, and the enquiry of the paper is misleading.

The threatened opposition to Mr. Bankhead in the Sixth District has about subsided. Both the high and low tariff men claim him. Meantime Mr. Bankhead is laying as low as the newspapers will let him.

The Birmingham Chronicle shows its good sense when it tells its brother protectionist of Birmingham and the State that the people of the state are overwhelmingly opposed to their tariff views, and that it will be ten years before they can hope to make much of a show politically, and that mean time they should stay in the Democratic party.

One of the saddest stories we have read for a long time is that detailing the death of three little children near Andalusia, of this state, some days ago. The children who were all quite young, were playing near an old stump some distance from the house. When evening came the father of the children went out to bring them in. He found two of them dead and the third one dying. They had been bitten to death by a large rattlesnake which had made its den in the stump.

The Chattanooga Times of Thursday confirms the rumor that the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad has bought or leased the East & West narrow gauge road and will change it to a standard gauge road and push it on to Birmingham. It is also rumored that the track of the narrow gauge will be taken up from Tecumseh to the Junction, three miles above here, and the track of the E. T. Va. & Ga. used between the two points.

The Talladega Advertiser reads the people of Talladega a plain lesson upon the folly and selfishness of sending abroad for goods to the neglect of home merchants. It is the best way in the world to break down a town. Patronize home industry and home enterprise. Jacksonville does too much of this sending abroad for everything, for her own good. A community is bound together by a common tie and a common interest that no member of that community can lightly disregard. Stand by your friends and neighbors at home. They are the people you depend on when you want a favor. Stop the selfish and disreputable practice of sending abroad every time you want ten dollars worth of goods.

"Personal and political honor" is the way the Montgomery Advertiser heads an article touching Dr. McMillan's action in refusing to take advantage of a state of confusion in the congressional convention of the first district in order to secure his own nomination. That is a good way to put it. A man who is personally honorable cannot be guilty of a dirty political act. A man is just as much bound by high principles of honor in political life as he is in private and personal matters. A thoroughly honorable man will take no mean political advantage. The masses of people recognize this truth, and hence the general unpopularity of the professional "dark horse."

Appointments for Speaking.

- Hon. Wm. H. Forney nominee for Congress in this, the Seventh Congressional District, will address the people of the district at the following times and places, to wit: Guntersville, Marshall Co., Sat. Oct. 9.
Blountsville, Blount Co., Mon. Oct. 11.
Cullman, Cullman Co., Sat. Oct. 16.
Milner, Randolph Co., Tues. Oct. 19.
Wedowee, Randolph County, Wednes. Oct. 20.
Brockville, Randolph Co., Thur. Oct. 21.
Hoffin, Etowah Co., Sat. Oct. 23.
Edwardsville, Etowah Co., Mon. Oct. 25.

PUBLIC ROADS.

Rules for Working Them to a Purpose.

The following for working roads are advanced by Supt. Fitch, of Rock Run Furnace, who is a civil engineer, and has had many years experience in such business:

1st. That the centre of the road should be eighteen inches higher than the edges and the road thirty feet wide.

2d. On high ground, the earth from the sides should be forward or back to raise the centre of road on low ground.

3d. Care should be taken the water does not stand at the sides of the road, but that the grade of outer edges is such that water will run to crossings.

4th. That surface crossings be made broad at bottom and of easy rise at sides, that vehicles will mount and pass over the obstruction easily.

5th. That all earth moved in road making should generally, with hardly any exception, be taken from some point where there is too much for the good of the road and put where, for the same reason, there is too little.

6th. If a hill is steep and the middle of the road low and washed by water, the edges of the road should be cut down. Not by throwing the earth excavated to the middle of the road to make the hill higher and the grade steeper, but rather by moving it with scrapers, harrows, carts or wagons, to the lowest part of road center at foot of hill, thereby making the hill less steep.

7th. On level ground or where the grade is not to be changed, a cut down one foot at the outer edge, fifteen feet from the centre, and a slope from that depth toward centre of road and to nothing at the distance of six feet from the outer edge, will yield earth enough from both sides of road to round up the centre eighteen inches higher than the edges. If the ground tips cross-wise to the lines of road such a cut and slope on the upper side is sufficient, for there should not be any ditch on the lower side of a road to keep the water from running away from it. Water should be allowed to leave a road anywhere and everywhere possible. Water is the enemy of good roads.

8th. Where a water course in usual times, or after heavy rains, threatens a road, brush should be laid with tops inclined in the direction the water flows and with the stems or butts bedded under the edge of the road, and sometimes bound down with trunks of trees; this will effectually prevent damage under ordinary circumstances.

9th. Where the grade of the road is descending, water crossing from the upper to the lower side of the road, should be multiplied as the grade is steeper; this because the steeper the grade over which water flows, the swifter it runs, and the more rapid the flow the more harm from it; and the less of it in one stream the better.

10th. The edge of the road, along which the water is to run, commonly called the ditches, should be as regular as possible, and free from obstructions; for a small rock or stump often turns a flood into the edge of a road with serious results.

11th. A road thirty feet wide is more easily kept in good order than one not so wide, for the reason that width admits the proper elevation of center above edges, without the sides being steep, so as to throw the load on to the wheels of one side and so cut deep ruts, whenever a loaded wagon leaves the center from careless driving or to let others pass.

12th. Stumps and rock should all be removed from a center drive, at least twelve feet in width, and they should never be carried up with the earth in grading for they are soon struck by the wheels of loaded wagons and spoil the road.

A Well-Known Physician.

During the year 1876 I was attacked with articular rheumatism—the effect of exposure to dampness and night air. I exhausted all the remedies known to me: profession, including iodide of potash in various combinations, wine of colchicum, fluid extract of poke root, and various other preparations, including a patent potash preparation. I was also treated for several years by a number of our best physicians, but obtained no permanent relief. For nearly a year I was confined almost continuously to my bed, and could not attend to business of any kind. Being a practicing physician, I was somewhat prejudiced against patent medicines; but coming in contact with traveling salesmen almost every day, who with one accord recommended the S. S. S. to me, I finally concluded to try it. I commenced improving while using the first bottle, and when I had finished half a dozen bottles I was so much improved that I was able to walk about and attend to my business once more. I consider Swin's Specific the best tonic and alternative made, and I do not hesitate to prescribe it in all cases requiring a reliable blood purifier.

LETTER FROM TEXAS.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—I think I promised to give your readers a few items from Texas.

We boarded the cars at Cross Plains on the night of the 8th inst., and came via Montgomery, Mobile, and New Orleans to Houston, Texas; there we boarded the Texas Central, and traveled north through the center of the state, arriving at McKinney on Friday night having been on the road 48 hours and 8 minutes and traveled over one thousand miles without a single "stopover." Around Millwood, Collins county, is the richest country I ever saw, and the roads, when I arrived, were as hard as a plank floor; but it rained the next day and I got "stuck" on Texas, or rather in the mud. I did not make a track, for the mud "stuck" closer than a brother.

There is, however, one good thing about it, twenty-four hours of sunshine and wind and the mud is all gone. It very rarely gets dry enough to injure crops to any great extent. The dry weather will cause cracks in the ground, over which it is absolutely dangerous to ride horseback, but I have seen cotton stalks, perfectly green, standing at the edge of these cracks. There is a greater stir among the people here than any place I ever saw. Everybody has something to do and does it in a hurry. Wages are good and no trouble to find work to do. Dry goods and groceries here are about the same as in Alabama. Corn is high now 40 to 50 cts. per bushel—the dry streak draws on us.

I am now at Wimsborough in Wood county.

This is a very pretty sandy country. It is what you might call a border prairie country, having the advantage of rich prairies near by and also having plenty of wood and good water. I say good water, it has generally a kind of acid taste but you soon get accustomed to it and you think it good; it is very healthy. The water on the prairies is warm and not very good but with a little labor and care they can have good cistern water which is the best.

I have not been here long enough for my opinions to be worth much—you may hear from me in the future. Now for fear I incur the displeasure of the editor, I subscribe myself yours most obediently.

J. V. JOLLY.

Wimsborough, Wood Co. Texas, Sept. 27th, 1886.

A BIG SCOOP.

The East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad men for several weeks that the East Tennessee people were seeking a direct line to Birmingham, and that they were going to get it in some way. Yesterday the Times received the following special telegram from Cedar town bearing on the subject, which seems to conclusively settle the matter:

CEARTOWN, GA., Sept. 27.—It is rumored here that the East Tennessee syndicate is about to assume control of the East and West railroad, either by purchase or lease, when the road to standard gauge and extend it into Birmingham. The fact of Mr. Hudson, general manager of the East Tennessee, arriving here yesterday and leaving here this morning, on a special for Broken Arrow, accompanied by Mr. A. G. West, vice president, and T. J. Nichol, general manager of the East and West, appears to give weight to the rumors.—Chattanooga Times.

The Birmingham Age of the 29th has the following to say about the matter:

"Railway developments with Birmingham as their objective point have been so frequent of late that sometimes important incidents are lightly considered until it transpires that they are but the manifest ambition of some big railway system to get a share of the heavy tonnage coming and going hereabouts. Notable among these progressive movements is the present activity of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system; an interesting feature of which is given in the following special to the Nashville Union: 'The Times' special from Cedar town, Ga., says the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railway has scooped the East and West road, running from Cedar town to Broken Arrow, Ala. The road will be changed to a broad gauge, and will be extended to Birmingham. The scoop is regarded as a big deal and will bring the East Tennessee into new territory.'

"It is generally understood that the Mobile and West Alabama, now building in this direction from Mobile, is in control of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia, and hence it is more than probable that the news from Chattanooga means simply that the East Tennessee system will touch Birmingham with more than a branch road—in short, that it is to penetrate the heart of the mineral region via Birmingham, the East & West railroad being a part of the line now building from Mobile."

The Birmingham correspondent of the Selma Times has this to say of it: "The East Tennessee and Georgia railroad company had an engineer here from New York several days ostensibly investigating chances for proper terminal arrangements for his line. The better outside opinion is that the Mobile & West Alabama railroad after passing here will be carried on so as to strike the present main line considerably above Talladega. Jacksonville will be probably the point it will strike and the Jacksonville & Gadsden railroad track will be probably utilized from Jacksonville to Duke's station, and a branch road will then probably be built to Gadsden.

STATE OF ALABAMA, Calhoun County.

In Probate Court, Special Term, September 23d, 1886.

Notice is hereby given that Mrs. M. E. Casey, now M. E. Witt, who heretofore failed to execute and file a new bond, and was therefore removed from office as Administratrix of the Estate of said W. J. Casey, deceased, and failing to appear and file her statement for settlement as required by law, the Court makes up from the records and papers in court pertaining to her administration of said estate an account against her for a settlement of her administration thereof. It is ordered that the 1st day of November, 1886, be and is hereby appointed the day on which to pass upon said account and to make such settlement; and that notice thereof be given for three successive weeks in the Jacksonville Republican newspaper published in said county, as a notice to all persons concerned, to appear in said court on said 1st day of November, 1886, and contest said account and settlement and account, if they think proper.

A. WOODS, Judge of Probate.

FINAL SETTLEMENT.

STATE OF ALABAMA, Calhoun County. In Probate Court for said county, Special Term, Sept. 23d, 1886.

This day came L. B. Coker and Mary Hanks, who, having resigned the office of Administratrix and Administratrix of the estate of J. W. Hanks deceased, in this day, as such administrator and administratrix, filed in Court their account and vouchers for a final settlement of said administration upon said estate.

It is therefore ordered by the court that the 1st day of October 1886 be and is hereby appointed the day upon which to audit and pass upon said account and to make such settlement; and that notice thereof be given for three successive weeks in the Jacksonville Republican newspaper published in said county, as a notice to all persons concerned, to appear in said court on said 1st day of October, 1886, and contest said settlement if they think proper.

THE TRUTH OF HISTORY.

JEFFERSON DAVIS' FINAL REPLY TO SHERMAN.

In a letter to the Baltimore Sun H. Shows Gen. Sherman to be a Liar Several Times Over and a Slanderer Double Dyed—The Saltiest Document Given to the Public in Many a Day.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 30.—The Sun to-morrow morning will print a letter five columns in length from Jefferson Davis, in relation to the long-standing controversy between himself and General W. T. Sherman. The letter is dated Beauvoir, Miss., Sept. 24, 1886 and begins as follows:

"At various times and from many of my friends I have been asked to furnish a reply to General W. T. Sherman's so-called report to the War Department, which the United States Senate ordered printed as 'Ex. Doc. No. 36, Forty eighth Congress, second session.' I have been compelled by many causes to postpone a reply to these invitations, and have in some instances declined for the time being to undertake the labor. The continuing sense of the great injustice done me, and the people I represented, by the Senate in making the malicious assault of General Sherman a public document, and giving to his statements the importance which necessarily attaches to an executive communication to the Senate, has recently caused the request for a reply by me to be pressed with very great earnestness. For this reason I have decided to furnish a reply for publication in the Baltimore Sun.

"The history of my public life bears evidence that I did all in my power to prevent war; that I did nothing to precipitate collisions; that I did not seek the post of chief executive, but advised my friends that I preferred not to fill it. That history Gen. Sherman may slanderously assail by his statements, but he can not alter its consistency, nor can the republicans of the senate change its unbroken story of faithful service to the union of the constitution until by command of my sovereign state, I withdrew as its ambassador from the United States senate. For all acts of my public life as president of the confederate states I am responsible at the bar of history and must accept her verdict, which I shall do without the least apprehension that it will be swayed from truth by the malicious falsehoods of General Sherman, even when stamped as an 'ex. doc.' by the United States senate."

Mr. Davis then recites the statement made by Gen. Sherman before a gathering of ex-Union soldiers in 1884 that he (Gen. Sherman) had seen a letter from Davis to a United States senator in which he (Davis) said he would turn Lee's army against any state that might attempt to secede from the southern confederacy. Mr. Davis then quotes his letter to the St. Louis Republic, printed at that time, denying the truth of Sherman's statement and interviews had subsequently by reporters with Sherman to whom the latter said: "This is an affair between two gentlemen. I will take my time about it and answer Mr. Davis myself. We will settle the matter between us."

"It is hardly necessary for me to say," continues Mr. Davis, "that Gen. Sherman did not write me, and has not settled the matter between us otherwise than by my statement denouncing his statement as false and himself as a slanderer. Here the matter would have rested, so far as I was concerned, but when the war department of the United States was made the custodian of his slanders and republican senators his endorsers, and the statements made at the Frank Blair Post were lifted in official importance, it became a duty alike to follow the slander with my denial and to expose alike its author and his endorsers."

Mr. Davis reviews at length the progress of the controversy, reciting the denial of every senator from the Southern states that he had received such a letter as that spoken of by Sherman, and accusing Sherman first of trying to substitute a letter from Alex. H. Stephens to Herschel V. Johnston for the alleged Davis letter and then of representing that the Davis letter was lost in the confusion of the rebellion archives in the war department, and finally pretending that he had seen the alleged letter at Raleigh, N. C., and intimating it was addressed to Gov. Vance. Mr. Davis quotes the published denial of Gov. Vance that he had ever received such a letter from him, and says the alleged Raleigh letter has never been found. Sherman says it was sent to Nashville, Savannah, Washington and St. Louis and may have been finally burned in Chicago in the great fire of 1871. But in all its travels no other person but Sherman saw it. Not a single officer at any headquarters had been produced who read it and it passes belief that in the excitement of the closing days of the war and during my imprisonment when every letter of mine was carefully examined to find evidence upon which to convict me, not an officer at these headquarters should have read that letter. Every fair minded man must therefore conclude that General Sherman stated at the Grand Army Post a wilful and deliberate falsehood, and that his motive had its inspiration in this malice which has characterized his acts and writings in other respects toward the Southern people. The so-called 'historical statement' concerning the public record of the Confederate States, a Sherman letter to the War Department is headed in that 'Executive Document,' opens with the following statement: 'That I (Sherman) had seen papers' which convinced me that even Mr. Davis, President of the Southern Confederacy, had during the progress of the war, changed his State right doctrines, had threatened to use force, even of Lee's army, should any State of the Confederacy attempt to secede from that government."

"With the mental process by which Gen. Sherman is 'convinced,' I have no concern, but the papers in which he alleged that I threatened to use force against the States of the Confederacy, ought to be tangible and producible, and in a 'historical statement' the Senate ought to have demanded the production of proofs, and on the failure to produce them, and after a denial by the Senators who Sherman alleged had received them, such 'historical statement,' already branded with falsehood and unsupported by evidence, ought to have been rejected, with only a wonder how it got before the Senate. It is apparent that this so-called 'historical statement' had been seen by Republican Senators, and that they were not ignorant of its real character when the Hawley resolution was under discussion in the Senate. Those Senators then knew that Gen. Sherman had in his letter of January 6, 1885, to the Secretary of War, changed the issue between us from one of veracity to a rambling, shuffling discussion of a 'conspiracy' and of 'conspirators' in the winter of 1860-61, and that which at Frank Blair post may have been a 'white lie' not intended for publication, came before the Senate as a 'historical statement' bolstered with other falsehoods, equally without foundation or support in anything written or uttered by me. It now survives as an 'ex. doc.' of picturesque prevarication. I know nothing of any 'conspiracy' or 'conspirators.' There was no secrecy about any of the political affairs which led to the secession of the States in 1860-61. It was the opinion of a conference of Southern Senators in January, 1861, which is introduced in this 'historical statement' as evidence of a 'conspiracy' that secession was the only remedy left to the States; that every effort to preserve peace had failed mainly through the action of that portion of the Republican party which refused all propositions for adjustment made by those men in January, 1861, to justify confidence, insure peace and preserve the Union. In the same month in which that conference was held, I served on a committee raised by the Senate to seek some possible mode of quelling the excitement that then existed. That committee was composed of the three political divisions of the Senate, and it was considered useless to report any measure which did not receive the concurrence of at least the majority of each division. The Republican Senators rejected every proposition that promised pacification, and the committee reported to the Senate that their consultation was a failure. Was there less conspiracy in the Republican Senators combining to prevent pacification than there was in the Southern Senators uniting in conference to advise the conventions of their states that their cause was hopeless in Washington? The epithets which Senator Sherman, in debate, applied to myself, and his mode of retort for my denunciation of his brother. I have been compelled to prove Gen. Sherman to be a falsifier and slanderer in order to protect my character and reputation from his wilful and unscrupulous mendacity. If his brother, the senator, felt the sting of that exposure, and his epithets are any relief, I am content that he shall go on record as denouncing me as a 'traitor' because I have proved his brother to be a liar."

"This 'historical statement' might have been enlarged and extended by the Senate and made to embrace a deliberate misrepresentation by Gen. Sherman of a communication to him by Col. J. D. Stevenson in regard to Albert Sidney Johnston's command in San Francisco. In a letter to Col. Wm. H. Knight, of Cincinnati, dated Oct. 28, 1885, Gen. Sherman asserted that Col. J. D. Stevenson, now living in San Francisco, had often told me that he had cautioned the government as to the plot of a conspiracy through the department commander, Albert Sidney Johnston, to deliver the possession of forts, etc., to men in California sympathizing with the rebels in the South, and he thought it was by his advice that the President (Lincoln) sent Gen. Sumner to relieve Johnston of his command before the conspiracy was consummated."

That statement of Sherman, the veteran Col. J. D. Stevenson promptly and emphatically denied. Gen. Grant himself has been exempt from Sherman's malice. To Col. Scott Sherman wrote: 'C. J. Smith had lived, Grant would have disappeared to history.' That remarkable statement was made by Gen. Fry and point out and emphatically denied by Gen. Sherman. Prompt to slander, he is equally quick to deny his language. The letter of Sherman dated Sept. 6th, 1883, was written to Col. Scott, now of the war record office. The denial of Sherman has caused the publication of the letter and the exposure of his hypocrisy in recent laudation to the dead chieftain."

The deliberate falsehood of Sherman inserted in his official report that Columbia, S. C., had been burned by Gen. Wade Hampton was afterwards confessed in his 'memoirs' to have been distinctly charged on Gen. Wade Hampton to shake the faith of his people in him. Even when confessing one falsehood he deliberately coined another, and on the same page of his 'memoirs' said that the fire 'was accidental' when he knew from the letter of Gen. Stone, who commanded the provost guard in Columbia, that the fire was not accidental. How much more he knew he may in future 'memoirs' or 'statement' reveal."

Can any man imagine less moral character, less conception of truth, less regard for what an official report should contain, than is shown by Sherman deliberately concocting a falsehood for the dishonorable purpose of shaking the faith of the people of South Carolina in their fellow citizen, Gen. Wade Hampton? I have in this vindication, not of myself only, but also of the people who honored me with the highest official position in their gift, been compelled to group together instances of repeated falsehood deliberately spoken and written by General Sherman—the Blair post slander of myself, the denunciation of character of General Albert Sidney Johnston, the disparagement of the military fame of Gen. Grant, and the shameful and corrupt charge against General Hampton. I have prepared this examination and exposure only because the Senate of the United States has given to Sherman's slander an endorsement which gives it whatever claims it may have to attention and of power to mislead in the future. Having specifically stamped the statement as false, having proved its author to be an habitual slanderer and not having a partisan secretary to make place for this notice of a personal trade, which was not an official report or record made during the war so as to entitle it to be received at the office of archives, I submit it to the public through the columns of a newspaper which discountenances foul play and misrepresentation, and which was kind and just to me in its issue of Jan. 14, 1885."

Good Results in Every Case.

D. A. Bedford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; had tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, did so and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since then he has used it in his family for all Coughs and Colds with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose life has been saved by this wonderful Discovery.

The following "notice" was seen on a farmer's fence on Hardwick's Mountain, last May: "If any man's or woman's cow gets in these hore oats, his or her tail will be cut off as the case may be. I am a Christian man and pay my taxes, but I don't want a man who lets his critters loose, say I."

Lesslie Kynard a fourteen year old boy living a few miles from town filled a bottle with powder and attempted to touch it off with a fuse, but as it missed the fuse, he went to see what was the matter, an explosion took place which sadly disfigured his face, putting out one eye and otherwise injured him seriously.—Marion Standard.

J. C. SONVILLE.

The trade issue of the Montgomery Dispatch of the 2nd inst., notes some five or six of the most prosperous towns in the State and in this list it includes Jacksonville, the only town, by the way, noticed in Calhoun county. The following is what the Dispatch has to say of Jacksonville:

This place is the county seat of Calhoun county, and is in one of the finest mineral districts of the State; the mountains on the east being full of the red and yellow hematite and other rich and valuable varieties of iron ore, that only awaits the pick and shovel. The State Normal School located here, in the excellent building formerly known as Calhoun college recently donated to the state, is a flourishing institution with a full corps of first-class professors. It is already a graduated quite a number, and promises much good—affording as it does, an opportunity for obtaining a collegiate education free of tuition—a great desideratum in this country. The valuable mineral water in close proximity to the place, and the bracing influence of the pure mountain air, together with occasional little drives to the remarkable Schenck sulphur spring, are thought to greatly benefit those who go there to spend the hottest summer months and eradicate from their system the malarial poisons of Florida and other places. Certain it is, that these people never fail to speak, in terms of highest praise of the refined morality, dignified kindness, and polite sociability of the place where they claim that time hangs most lightly on their hands and passes most delightfully by. The unanimous verdict is that the people are healthy, happy and unselfish. The place has first rate natural drainage, a good system of water-works, an inexhaustible supply of pure spring and well water in the very heart of the town; is on E. T. V. & G. R. R., 145 miles from Selma; and on the Jacksonville, Gadsden and Atlanta R. R., soon to be constructed. She was an old Indian town, and for a long time underwent very little change, always holding her own and retaining the self-same unmistakable, but pleasant and agreeable Jacksonville; but a few years ago, she began to move into more conspicuous position, and demand that more prominent place which she had so long deserved, but had neglected to claim; she has ever since continued to advance gradually, but surely in her growth and importance, now having about fifteen hundred inhabitants. The new court house just completed, is an elegant building, and is a model of convenience, making ample provision for the increased and rapidly increasing business of the county. A company is now forming for the purpose of erecting a superb hotel. The town has caught the spirit of thrift and energetic enterprise so characteristic of the times, and other extensive improvements are in contemplation.

NORMAL SCHOOLS.
The Florence Wave thus sets forth some of the advantages of the Normal Schools:
"The teacher certainly requires special training to fit him for his life work." No matter how well versed he may be in the subject matter, he should have special instructions with reference to the best methods of organizing and conducting schools. Doctors and lawyers are specially fitted for their professions; then surely the teacher should not be behind hand in the matter.
Education by the State carries with it the obligation to train these teachers. If the State proposes to spend large sums of money educating its children, it surely must have trained teachers to do the work. If so it must train them. It must not rely on private enterprise to supply the demand. It does not train these teachers as a charity or a favor to them, but that they may take their places in the schools of the State. The national government annually expends large sums of money in educating young men, the pick of the land, at West Point and Annapolis. Why? It is that their services may be had in the capacity of the army and the navy. It is not done to favor these young men, notwithstanding, they are paid handsomely for allowing the government to give them an education that enables them to advance their profession. But it would not do for the government to abandon the academies. It would have dependent in times of war for officers on young men educated, perhaps, by the government with which it was at strife. The same necessity prompted most of the States of the Union to establish a system of Normal schools. Experience has shown the wisdom of the step.

A Great Growing Country.

About two weeks ago says the Koto correspondent of a western paper, I saw a farmer out behind a strawstack gathering into a heap a lot of old bones and pieces of hides and sprinkling salt on them. Yesterday I saw this same man selling a fine pair of steers to a butcher up town. They were so fat and filled up so fast that they had bound their hides with an old buffalo rope. This granger was a Sunday school superintendent before he came to Dakota, but he had sworn those were the cattle I had seen him kicking together behind the strawstack. He said all they had eaten was some wild grass that had sprung up in his doorway, were the women folks had thrown a few tubs of warm soap-suds on wash days. He said that he had learned that the best way to winter stock in Dakota was to knock them to pieces in the fall and set them up again as wanted otherwise, unless we get a blizzard every week, they were liable to get too fat and round on the native grass. Last fall I stopped at a house to borrow a match to light my pipe with. The man told me to go right out in the garden and pick all I wanted. I did not know what he meant at first; but he went out with me, and I'm almost afraid you'll think I'm a liar for telling it there was about a half an acre growing the finest parlor matches I ever saw. There they were as thick as hairs on a blind mule. He said he had a poor crop the year before because the seed was too good for such soil. This year he had mixed his seed matches with about one-third toothpicks and got a splendid yield.
I went out after breakfast and saw the man blowing up Hubbard squashes with gunpowder. They were to large to be moved, and the farmer wanted the ground.

CALERA.

The Republican Congressional Convention Meets with Six Delegates—Bar Association.

Special to the Times.

CALERA, Sept. 30.—The republican convention of the sixth congressional district met here to-day. Six counties were represented in person, and four others by proxy. Dr. R. A. Mosely, J. D. Hardy, Dr. W. T. Ewin, white, and E. W. Simmons, and J. E. Bush, colored, and another darkey whose name we were unable to ascertain, constituted the convention. Mr. J. D. Hardy, of this place, was nominated for Congress.

The platform adopted favors the Blair bill and liberal education by national aid; advocates a strong tariff policy, and opposes tariff for revenue only; opposes the internal revenue system, and demands its repeal; favors a national law for the arbitration between labor and capital.

A Physician's Endorsement.

I know a case of eruption from poison oak which continued to appear every spring for several years, which was cured by the use of two bottles of Swift's Specific.

The Errors of Youth.

I was afflicted with a terrible blood poison for about thirteen months. I was treated by the best physicians, and used various kinds of remedies, but received no substantial relief. I finally tried the Swift's Specific, and about four bottles cured me sound and well.

Uncured Feet.

For nearly five years I suffered with a running, gangrenous sore on my foot. I spent all my wages for medicine, hoping to be cured. I never found any permanent relief until Messrs. J. H. & J. T. Pittard, of Waterville, Ga., produced for me six bottles of S. S. cure, which, if it has not entirely cured me, has certainly healed the sore. All swelling and soreness have gone. Before I took Swift's Specific at times I could not walk at all. Only in bad weather do I now feel the slightest ache in my foot, and go and come at will. I am truly thankful for what it has done for me. A number of witnesses are ready to corroborate my statement.

A Model Sermon

George Francis Train, the most gifted crank in America, used to deliver a burlesque sermon from the text
"Why stand ye here all the day idle?" The style was something as follows:
Firstly, my friends why? why? wherefore? for purpose? Give a reason! Explain! Why? Why?
Secondly, why stand? Why stand? Why not sit down? Why not lie down? Why not walk? Wherefore do ye not run? Why stand? Why stand?
Thirdly, why stand ye? Why don't somebody else stand? Why don't your wife stand? Why don't your father stand? Why don't your mother stand? Why don't your brothers or your sisters, or your uncles, or your aunts stand? Why don't your grand father stand? My friends, why stand ye? Why stand ye?
Fourthly, Why stand ye here? Why don't you stand elsewhere? Why stand in this particular place? Why not stand in the street, in the fields, in the busy parts of commerce in the gilded palaces of the rich? Why stand ye here?
Fifthly, why stand ye here all the day? Why don't ye stand in the night? Why stand in the light of the noonday sun? Why not stand in the shadow of night? Why stand when all mankind is at rest? Why not stand when all nature is hushed in sweet repose? Why stand ye here all the day?
Sixthly, why stand ye here all the day? Why don't you go to work? Why waste the precious moments in sluggish inactivity? Be stirring! Jump yourselves! Loose your joints and get up and dust! Why stand ye here idle?

The Republican.

OCTOBER 23 1886.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

FROM THE
Seventh Congressional District of Alabama,
in the Fifty-third Congress.
WILLIAM H. FORNEY, of Calhoun County.

The Birmingham Age says: "Let the Courier Journal, the Selma Times, the Jacksonville Republican have their way, and every mine and iron manufactory in Alabama would be closed."

The Age further down in the article from which the above is extracted intimates that the Republican and other papers follow the "vulgar lead of the Courier Journal in epithets directed against an honorable opponent"—the Age, presumably.

The Republican claims nothing in the way of originality, but it is no imitator we can say with perfect truth. No "me too" in our life you please. The Republican does not exchange with the Courier-Journal, does not quote from it and does not know what it is saying about the Age or the tariff except as it gathers it from other exchanges.

If the Republican is an imitator of the Courier-Journal in applying epithet to the Age, the Age is an imitator of the Radical papers of the North in applying the epithet of "free trader" to news papers which differ with it on the tariff.

The Selma Times, the Republican, and other State papers are in doubt ready to debate the tariff with the Age whenever it will so liberally undertake the work and drop the flippant charge of free trader against all who do not agree with it.

There are no free traders in Alabama, of consequence, owing to the necessities of the case. The Republican is free to admit that, if the conditions warranted the policy, it would be for free trade "all wool and a yard wide."

But the immense debt piled up by the war necessitates a tax and the pension swindle, which a false philanthropy and a dishonest political policy upholds, require a great deal of money and we know that this cannot be raised, under a free trade policy, and hence, and hence only, we are not for the policy of free trade.

We do not believe one single word of the bosh about "protective tariff" being for the benefit of American labor. If we did, we would feel more kindly toward it, for we sympathize with the working people and wish them well.

For the last twenty years we have heard this protection to American labor on the lips of bloated capitalists, but when we have looked at the condition of this labor we have seen it always in poverty while the employers of the labor were growing daily richer and richer through the bonus paid them by the toiling and hard-working people of the United States in the shape of a duty on the article they manufactured.

It is the policy of protection that has made the manufacturing North and East rich and impoverished the South, which is an agricultural country.

Now to the main point made by the Age. If the "Courier-Journal, the Selma Times and the Jacksonville Republican had their way," so far from every ore mine and iron manufactory in Alabama being closed, the State would prosper in these things as never before.

A reduction in the tariff on iron would make its manufacture unprofitable in the North, as in competition with foreign makers. They would have to come South, where coal, iron and lime stone recline side by side, to compete with the world. This would make Alabama one of the greatest iron States in the United States and the greatest iron-producing section of the same area in the world. The State would be dotted with iron furnaces and manufacturing enterprises of all kinds. Skilled labor would find employment its full time at remunerated wages. Farm lands would advance. Towns and cities would be built. Railroad building would be immensely stimulated.

But the iron makers already here prefer a monopoly of the business in the South, satisfied with the immense profits they make under the present tariff to any widely diffused prosperity. They are selfish. They want it all. They are grasping. They begrudge the country a general prosperity, if the means to that prosperity ends down their profits any.

The Republican, speaking for itself, is not against a development of the industrial resources of the country. Its policy, if adopted, would stimulate the growth of Birmingham ten fold and put shovels in the pockets of the Age.

ment of the industrial resources of the country. Its policy, if adopted, would stimulate the growth of Birmingham ten fold and put shovels in the pockets of the Age.

The Birmingham Age takes the correct view of the matter when it resists the further issuance of bonds as a basis of National Bank circulation. The Age properly thinks that the same object might be effected (expansion of the currency) by allowing the National banks to issue on deposits of gold and silver, or by the government issuing paper representative of the gold and silver bullion; or these ailing, by direct issuance of greenbacks, since both the proposed bonds and greenbacks are only a mortgage on the resources of the country. The various plans of the Age compared themselves, because they involve no tax of the people to secure interest.

It is the dream of the wealthy classes of to-day to fix a perpetual debt upon the people, drawing interest, which the toiling millions must pay. Since the proposed debt is based alone upon the faith and credit of the toiling millions it is just as well to make it, if it is to be made, by issuing greenbacks which draw no interest. To his extent the Age and the Republican (if the Age will permit) are Greenbackers.

That party who went to New York and left the impression that the Anniston & Northern Railroad controlled the old road bed and right of way between Jacksonville and Gadsden has probably realized by this time that it pays to remember the distinction between seem and be. In short that man will always gain more by being a gentleman of truth and honor in his dealings with other men. But some men act as though they believe that all the sagacity of the world is lodged in them, and that all other men are a lot of fools whom it is easy to run over without knowledge or resentment on their part.

As an evidence of the discriminating nature of our present tariff, the salt, used by the fishermen of the Eastern States is exempt from tax, but not so with the Western and Southern farmers who use this useful article. They have to pay a tariff tax. The present tariff was made mainly when the Southern States were unrepresented in the Federal Congress and hence this discrimination in favor of the East as against the South.

Messrs. E. T. Smyth, T. W. Ayers, J. M. Ledbetter, M. F. McCarty and J. J. McPherson, of Anniston, give notice, through the Watchman, that a bill will be introduced at the next session of the Legislature "for the purpose of prohibiting the sale, giving away or other disposition of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or intoxicating drinks, bitters or beverages within Calhoun county, Alabama."

Mr. W. O. Butler has taken charge of the Anniston Watchman, having bought Mr. Smith out, and has made much improvement in that spirited democratic paper. We wish Bro. Butler the largest measure of success in all his undertakings. Mr. Smith was a general, companionable and true man and we much regret to lose him from the press of the county.

The Anniston Watchman gives notice that a strong effort will be made to cast the vote of the working men of that town against Gen. Forney. Let the voters of the county turn out and vote for him.

The Calera correspondent of the Montgomery Advertiser, says: "Mr. J. D. Hardy, the Republican candidate for Congress, from this (7th) District, has been elected Master Workman of the lodge of Knights of Labor here (Calera)."

BIRMINGHAM.

The Alabama State Bank Changes Its Name and Increases its Stock to $500,000.

BIRMINGHAM, Oct. 19.—The stockholders of the Alabama State Bank to day ordered an increase from two hundred thousand to a half million dollars and changed the name to the Alabama National Bank. Nearly all the new stock is already spoken for; the remainder will be reserved for citizens. Among out of town takers are President Norton, of the L. & N. road, Messrs. Josiah Morris, of Montgomery, M. A. Spurrier, of Nashville, and several other bankers of reputation and influence. The bank will be the largest in the state.

The Weakness of the Flesh.

It is easier to forget a wrong than it is to remember a favor. "I can forgive him," said a man. "He did me a great wrong, but I forgive him."

"You have not been on good terms with Jackson," a friend replied. "Do you forgive him?"

"No," after a moment's reflection, "I cannot be on good terms with him."

"Did he ever do you an injury?"

"Yes, the greatest of all injuries. He lured me money and I can't pay him. Let me tell you something. You have read of great deeds of heroism, of wonderful sacrifice, of men made glorious by coming unfiled out of some great temptation, but the man who is unable to pay a debt of honor and who can still have a kindly feeling for his benefactor, is greater than heroes, purer of heart and soul than the man who has proved himself to be above temptation and cease me a minute. I must cross the street. Yonder comes Bangs. I borrowed $10 of him some time ago."—Akansas Traveler.

James G. Blaine Defending Protection.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19.—James G. Blaine spoke briefly to great crowds to-day at Lewistown, Huntingdon, Tyne and other stopping places along his route from Harrisburg to Altoona, and at the latter city made an address to 10,000 people. He devoted most of his attention to the tariff question and everywhere defended protection.

Walter S. Gordon's Remains.

ATLANTA, Ga., October 19.—The remains of Mr. Walter S. Gordon, accompanied by his brother, Gen. John B. Gordon, reached Atlanta to-day from New York. The military of the city attended the funeral, which was one of the largest which ever took place in the city.

Mrs. Maxwell, wife of Rufus Maxwell, who lives about three miles west of Valley Head, committed suicide by cutting her throat with a razor, on Friday morning about 3 o'clock. She had been afflicted with attacks of melancholia occasionally, for two or three years, and during those attacks would wander off from her home. While the family was away from home on Friday she found a razor about the house and went out in the yard and cut her throat.

The liquor dealers of the United States have held within the last few days a national convention, and their resolutions declare loudly for Temperance.

This is most as good as the advocacy of the unrestricted and untaxed manufacture of the article as a means to temperance and the final abandonment of its manufacture. "What fools we mortals be," or, more properly speaking, "What rascals we mortals be."

RELIEF! FORTY YEARS A SUFFERER FROM CATARRH. WONDERFUL TO RELATE.

"FOR FORTY YEARS I have been a victim to CATARRH—three-fourths of the time a sufferer from EXCRUCIATING PAINS ACROSS MY FOREHEAD and MY SUB-ORBITAL. The discharges were so offensive that I hesitate to mention it, except for the good it may do some other sufferer. I have spent a young fortune upon my earnings during my forty years of suffering to obtain relief from the doctors. I have tried every medicine—every one I could learn of—from the most celebrated of the earth, with no relief. And AT LAST 37 years of age, have met with remedy that has cured me entirely—made me a new man. I weighed 180 pounds and now weigh 140. I used thirteen bottles of the medicine, and the only regret I have is that being in the remote parts of the State I may not have had time to prevail on all catarrh sufferers to use what has cured me.

FINAL SETTLEMENT.

STATE OF ALABAMA, Calhoun County.

In Probate Court, for said county, Special Term, Sept. 23d, 1886.

This day came E. B. Coler and Mary Hanna, who, having resigned the office of Administrator and Administratrix of the estate of J. W. Hanna deceased, have this day, as such administrator and administratrix, filed in Court their account and vouchers for a final settlement of said administration upon said estate.

It is therefore ordered by the court that the 24th day of October 1886 be and is hereby appointed the day upon which to audit and make said account and make said settlement; and that notice thereof be given by publication for three successive weeks in the Jacksonville Republican, a newspaper printed and published in said county, as a notice to all persons concerned, to be and appear before me at my office in said county, on said 24th day of Oct. 1886, and contest said settlement if they think proper. A. WOODS, Judge of Probate.

APPLICATION TO PROBATE WILL OF G. W. WELLS, DEC'D.

STATE OF ALABAMA, Calhoun County.

In Probate Court, Special Term, Sept. 23d, 1886.

This day came Mrs. Lou L. Wells, and filed in Court the last Will of Geo. W. Wells, deceased, and also filed at same time her petition in writing and under oath, praying that the said last Will and Testament, of the said Geo. W. Wells, deceased, be Probated, and admitted to Record, and that letters Testamentary issue to her as Executrix thereof. It is therefore ordered that the 15th day of October 1886, be and is hereby appointed a day upon which to hear said petition, and for the Probate and Record of said Will, and that notice thereof be given by publication for three successive weeks in the Jacksonville Republican, a newspaper published in said county, as a notice to all the heirs, next of kin of, and all others interested, to be and appear in said Probate Court on said 15th day of October 1886 and contest said Will and application to Probate same if they think proper.

LETTER FROM UTAH.

Another Indian War Threatened—Colorow, an Old Ute Chief and His Followers Following in the Steps of Geronimo and His Band.

WHITE ROCKS, UTAH, Oct. 16.
ED. REPUBLICAN:—Work is progressing very satisfactorily at the military post recently established twelve miles south of us and christened Fort Duchesne. A good number of soldiers are temporarily camped just outside our back lot, sent here under command of Lieutenant Park to save lumber on the Agency mill. Another camp is located at the foot of the mountains seven miles distant to procure stocks, while quite a number of men and teams are engaged in hauling them. It is estimated that at least 1,000,000 feet of lumber will be required to erect the contemplated buildings.

I had the pleasure several days since of meeting the commanding officer of the post, Col. Benteen.
He has acquired considerable reputation as an Indian fighter—was in the Modoc war with Gen. Custer at the time of the latter's death. Those who know say that he is spoiling for a fight even now, and present surroundings would indicate that ere long his desires in this direction will be gratified.

There is an old Chief belonging to the tribes on this reservation by the name of Colorow—extremely savage and warlike in disposition and withal sufficiently influential to command a considerable following. He is now and has been for two years past off the reservation over in Colorado with a band of Indians at his bidding. He came to the Agency in May last during the annuity payment, got his money, remained a few days with Sawawik, the head chief of the White River and then returned to Colorado. While here he came into my office to procure some treatment for inflamed eyes, and I must confess his face and general appearance were not at all prepossessing. He had a revolver buckled around him and a winchester hanging at his side and bore himself with the air of one familiar with the war-path. I gave him unusually respectful attention (the surroundings were different from what they now are) and congratulated myself on his departure.
Reports have been current from time to time that this old chief and his band have roamed over certain sections of Colorado at will, killing cattle that belonged to others, and even imperiling the lives of white people. More than once a conflict has been narrowly escaped between them and the cow boys and a fight is liable to be precipitated at any moment.

A letter was received at the Agency a few days ago from a Judge in Colorado in which it was stated that Colorow or some of his band had shot at a white man six times and that he had made a narrow escape—that the Indians were committing many depredations and that warrants had already been issued for the leaders. It concluded by saying that in case the Indians were not immediately made to vacate that territory the cow boys and white settlers would take the matter into their own hands. A man was at once sent to ask Colorow to return and in case he refused, which I regard as an almost certain result, the agent will no doubt call out troops to bring him back. It is possible that in this matter the country will have a repetition of the Apache war in which Geronimo figured as the central figure for so long a time. The Apache warrior finds a striking counterpart in the old Ute disturber. The country of western Colorado affords just as fine resources and opportunities in the way of impenetrable mountain fastnesses, as does Arizona, and a war with Colorow and his blood-thirsty band would be less disastrous and expensive than that which has just ended in our sister territory. Col. Ben-teen, as before stated, is ready for the fray and the opinion prevails that the sooner Colorow and his band are made to understand their true relations to the white settlers and the Government the better it will be for them and everybody.
It is high time that the savagely inclined Redman should be taught a lesson in geography—even if it takes ball and powder to impress it upon his mind.

Privileges absolute and unlimited from the basis of all their ideas of justice and the sooner such sophistry is exploded the better for all concerned.

RAILROAD REGULATION.

Supreme Court Decision on Interstate Commerce.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The Supreme Court rendered its decision to-day in the case of the Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific Railway Company, plaintiffs in error, against the people of the state of Illinois.
The specific allegation was that the railroad company charged El-den & McKinney fifteen cents per hundred pounds for transportation of goods from Peoria to New York City, and on the same day charged Isaac Bailey and F. O. Swannell twenty-five cents per hundred pounds for the same class of goods from Gilman, Ill. to New York.
The discrimination was in alleged violation of the law of Illinois, which prohibits any charge for transportation of passengers or freight within the State of Illinois proportionally greater than would be charged for transportation of passengers or like classes of freight over a greater distance of the same road. The gist of the decision is contained in the conclusion
as follows:

When it is attempted to apply to transportation through an entire series of States a principle of this kind, and each one of the States or half a dozen States shall attempt to establish its own rate of transportation and by its own method to prevent discrimination in rates, the deleterious influence upon the freedom of commerce among the States and upon transportation of goods through those States cannot be overestimated.
That this species of regulation is one which must be, if established at all, of a general and national character, and cannot be safely and wisely remitted to local and local regulations, we think clear from what has already been said, and if a regulation of commerce, as we think have demonstrated it is, and as the Ill. court concedes it to be, it must be of that national character, and regulation can only appropriately be by general rules and principle which demand that it should be done by the Congress of the United States under the commensurate clause of the Constitution. The judgment of the Supreme Court of Illinois, which was adverse to the railroad, is reversed. The cause is remanded to that court for further proceedings in conformity with the above opinion.

Opinion by Justice Miller. Justice Bradley delivered a dissenting opinion, in which the Chief Justice and Justice Gray concurred.
In this opinion it is conceded that Congress might, if it saw fit, regulate the matter under consideration, but not having done so it is held that the State does not lose its power to regulate charges on its own railroad in its own territory simply because the goods or persons transported have been brought from or are destined to a point beyond the state borders.

TWO MEN KILLED.

Fatal Collision on the E. T. V. & G.
Railroad.

Yesterday morning about half past 5 o'clock a fearful accident occurred on the East Tennessee Virginia and Georgia railroad near Silver Creek station, on the Georgia division. Two men lost their lives, one has a broken ankle and several broken ribs, one had most of the flesh torn off his jaw and another badly bruised.

The way freight No. 23, which leaves East Rome at 6:30, was making for Brices' station, where it expected to meet the up passenger due East Rome at 9:15. Just ahead of the freight a rock train pulled out from Silver Creek station. It got into a cut a short distance off, where the road curves and there was overtaken by the freight, which was running very fast. A young man named Dobb, about 24 years of age, from Dallas, and a man named Patridge, were on the rock car as flagmen.
Dobb was instantly killed and Patridge died from his injuries in about fifteen minutes. A negro train hand got his ankle broken and several of his ribs broken.
Another negro, in jumping off the car struck his face against a rock and the flesh was torn off the jaw in a horrible manner. A third negro was badly bruised. The negro with the broken ankle was carried to Atlanta on the 9 o'clock train last night. Coroner H. C.
Harper went down with a jury and held an inquest over the bodies.—Rome Bulletin.

A rat was put into a box with a rattlesnake in Sacramento the other day. Instantly the snake struck it, and in a moment the rat turned over and died. It was then swallowed by the rattler. The next day another rat was put in the box. The snake made no movement towards it, but the rat at once attacked the snake, which, in defending itself, struck its enemy several times. The bites had no apparent effect on the rat, which after a while, was released, and ran away, seemingly none the worse for its battle. This would seem to indicate that for a considerable time after expending its visual a rattlesnake is harmless.

PERSONS AND THINGS.

The theory of the inhabitation of the moon is plausibly argued in the affirmative by Duerbeck of Berlin, who thinks that the further side may offer none of the obstacles to the condition of life peculiar to the face presented to the earth.

A citizen of Holyoke was drinking at a bar the other day with three companions, when his wife came in, joined the drinkers, and ordered drinks for all hands. It is said that no more effectual way of breaking up a drinking party was ever known in that section.

During the performance in the theatre-comique, Herlem, Friday night, Charles Johns, aged twenty-four years, of No. 25 Great Jones street, arose from his seat in the parquette and shouted "three cheers for Henry George." When the ushers attempted to eject him he tried to create a disturbance and was arrested. He was sent to the island for one month.

A junk dealer of Lewiston, Me., found a ball of shoe thread in an old boot. He used the thread for wrapping cord until it was nearly gone, then found that it contained a wad of money, consisting of a half-penny, a gold dollar, a $1 reasury note, a $1 Canadian bill, and a confederate $5 bill.

Young Mr. William Ogden, of Joleman, Mich., arose in his sleep the other night, and clad only in night shirt, went to the house of a young woman to whom he was engaged. Her father answered the ring at the bell, and seeing who it was and how he was dressed, kicked him down the front steps. This awoke Mr. Ogden, who went home deeply mortified, having also taken a severe cold.

No sir! he did not die of pneumonia; he died of bill brokers. He rejected an unwise improvement of a piece of real estate, made loans covered himself with bonds and mortgages, and finally incurred a tort debt of $2,000, which rapidly grew up to $8,000, and crushed the life out of him. He borrowed money on call, got paper discounted, and he worked, lived and died for a street debt, upon which he expended his strength very week, throwing it ahead one day to seven.—Drygoods Chronicle.

General James W. Denver, who the democratic candidate for governor in an Ohio district of republican proclivities, represented California in Congress thirty years ago. While a bill to confirm certain land owners in San Francisco was pending he was offered a bribe of $40,000 to vote for the bill, or even to absent himself when the bill should be called up for final action, but he denounced the scheme and secured its indefinite postponement.

Recently in Kern county, Cal., a man charged with murder was sent by the superior court in $500 bail. A few days after a prisoner was before a justice charged with stealing a suit of clothes. He was held to answer, and when the question of bail came up the justice said, after figuring a while:
"The judge of the superior court releases a man who is charged with murder on $500 bail. I think after comparing the degrees of crime, I will give you a chrono-meter and lay you."

A white whale was seen near Long Branch Saturday by about a dozen spectators. Three men were engaged in tarring the iron piles at the end of the pier, when the monster rose to the surface twenty feet away. The men immediately climbed up the rope-cable on which they were working, and none too soon to escape the capacious mouth of the whale for the last man had scarcely reached the deck of the pier when the whale snapped a tar bucket that was dangling from a rope, and continued its course towards Asbury Park. The whale was in sight for about fifteen minutes, during which time it spouted almost constantly. Pier Superintendent Taylor says the animal was between forty and fifty feet in length. Nothing has been seen of the tar bucket.

INVESTIGATING THE SHOCKS

At Charleston and Summerville--No
Shocks Since Friday.

By United Press to Dispatch.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 24.—Mr. Earl Sloan, assistant geologist of the United States geological survey, investigated Friday's shocks with the following results:
"The afternoon shock was a compound disturbance with a motion at first from westward, interrupted in its second phase by a disturbance from a point west of north, its maximum intensity being at 2 o'clock, 43 minutes, 45 seconds p. m. The subsistence of this shock was unusually long, as shown by the oscillations of a delicately poised instrument, which continued until 4 p. m. Compared with the shock of August 21st, the intensity was in the ratio of 3 to 5.

Mr. Sloan also found that the Summerville shock preceded Charleston's disturbance by 15 seconds, and showed and intensity of 4 to 5 with August's quake.
No shock here since Friday night, except a very slight tremor about 2 o'clock this morning.
Sleepless nights, made miserable by that terrible cough, Shillol's Cure is the remedy for you. For

GADSDEN.

A Widow Shot by a Drunken Rowdy—Church Matter.

Special to Advertiser.

GADSDEN, Oct. 25.—The blood of another one of Etowah's citizens is turned loose to flow by the hands of a young sixteen year old boy. On Saturday night Euclid Able, in company with a friend,
John Henry, visited the widow Cannon's house, and when they arrived Mrs. Cannon informed Able, who was drinking, that if he could not come there sober he had better stay away, and he was put out of the house. He returned through the window, and while Mrs. Cannon was kindling a fire he pulled out his pistol and shot her in the back of the head and then turned upon her daughter, and told her if she did not hush he would shoot her. His friend caught the pistol, and Able made his escape. Mrs. Cannon died instantly. She lived about eight miles from town. Euclid is a son of Mr. Bill Able, one of the best and most highly respected citizens of Etowah.

The attendance at the Methodist and Presbyterian churches Sunday were very large. There was no service at the Baptist church owing to the illness of their pastor, Rev. C. R. Henderson. His condition is favorable and it is to be hoped that he will be out soon.
The Rev. John A. Thompson, pastor of the Methodist church is agitating the building of a new church.
